

Safari Select

Safari Select is the latest product offering from Safari Books Online. Designed specifically for public libraries, this premier digital library boasts a collection of more than 400 technical e-books from the world's top IT publishers including exclusive access to content from O'Reilly Media and Pearson Technology Group.

Demand for technical information at public libraries is at an all-time high with the current consumer electronic boom ranging from home computing to iPods. Providing the most current books covering all the various technological needs can be challenging. Safari Select is your solution to meet this demand.

Safari Select was created for public libraries to meet the wide range of demands from the community. Patrons often come into the library looking for answers about the latest developments in technology, while others are new to the home computing world and want to learn more about getting on the Internet with their new home computer. Some even may have received a new digital camera as a gift and want to learn how to take better pictures. Safari Select has you covered.

Excellent Coverage on the Latest Subjects

Keeping up with the latest technical books can be challenging for public librarians on multiple levels. Safari Select contains a pre-selected collection of more than 400 e-books to support the demands in the top technology subject areas. Approximately 100 titles will be added annually providing you with continued support on the latest technology developments. With Safari Select, public library patrons get online answers to the most critical technology question today in these top subject areas:

- Computing
- Desktop Applications
- Digital Photography
- Everything Mac
- Home Entertainment
- Internet
- Windows and PCs

Simple yet Powerful Interface

Safari Select allows library patrons to easily find answers to their technology questions regardless of their research experience. Users can perform a keyword search to get answers from all books in the collection or simply browse and read through a specific book of their choice.

Leaders in Technology Publishing

Safari Select contains best-selling titles from the world's top IT publishers, who together represent more than 80% of all computer book sales in the U.S., including:

- Pearson, whose imprints include:
 - Peachpit Press
 - Addison-Wesley
 - Prentice Hall

- Sams Publishing
- Que
- O'Reilly Media
- John Wiley & Sons
- Microsoft Press

Expanded Access to Safari Select

Safari Select is available to public libraries via simultaneous user access allowing librarians to control costs. Remote access is included, meaning you can provide access to information on the latest technological developments both in the library and at home.

Contact ProQuest for More Information

Safari Select is now available for sale exclusively from ProQuest. If you would like more information or would like to sign up for a trial, call your ProQuest representative or call 800.521.0600 ext. 3344 to locate your local ProQuest representative.